

Google earth map with Carbonate outcrops marked by blue lines. Red markers are previously explored caves from 1990s. Target area for cave exploration are the 2 larger carbonate outcrops between Opuwo and Sesfontein

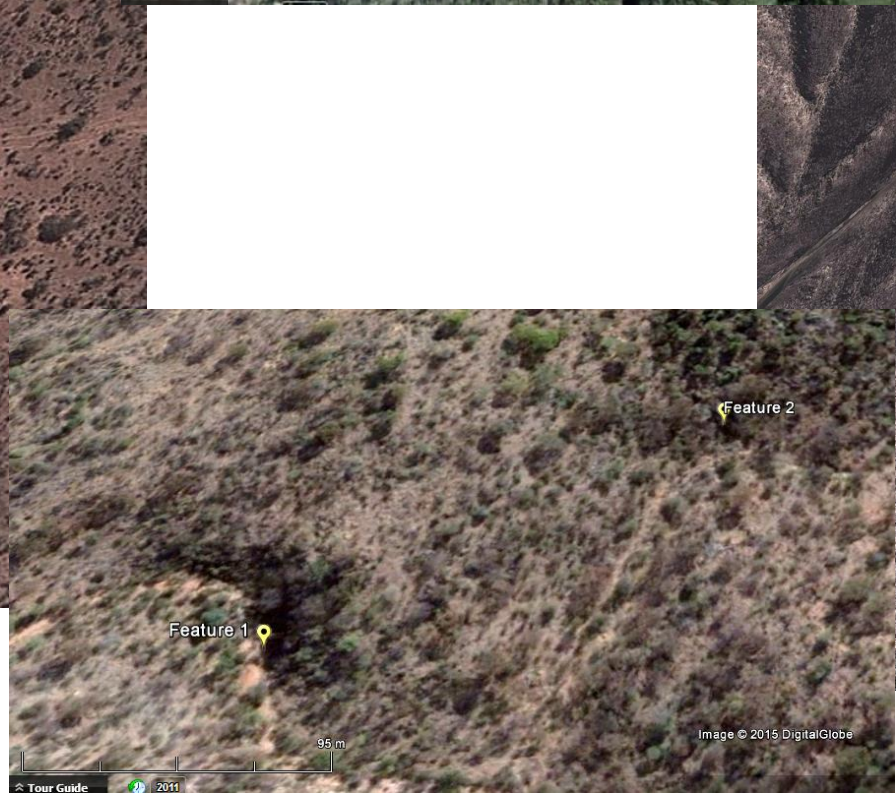

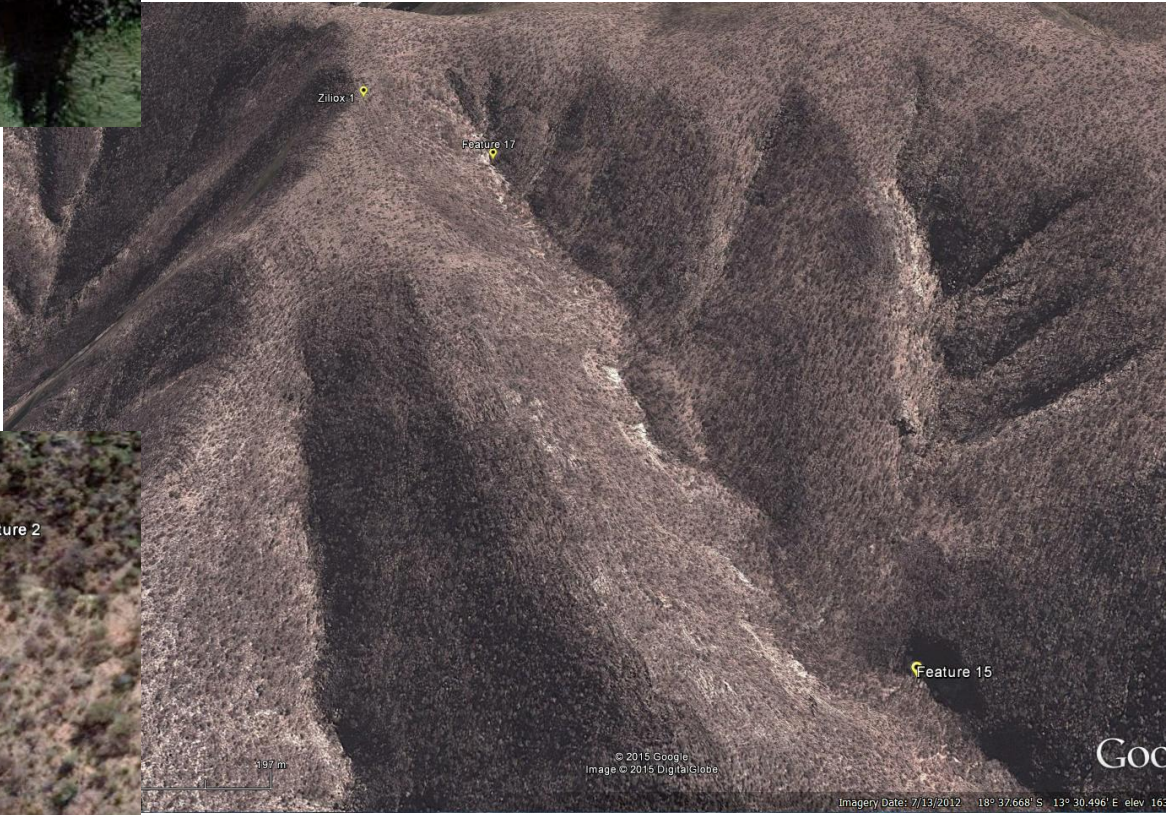

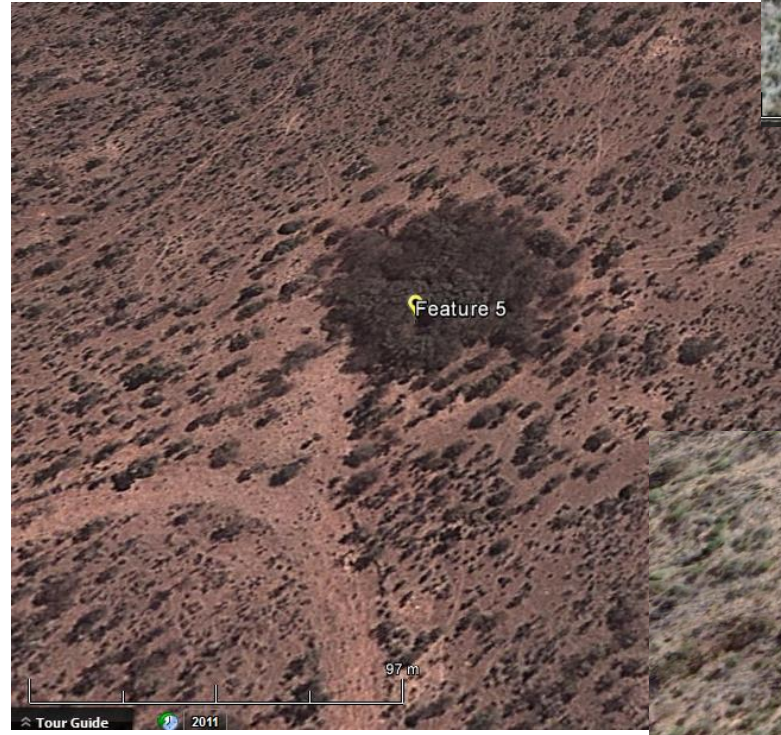

Carbonate Outcrops between Opuwo and Sesfontein showing previously explored caves (red) and new Features (yellow) ID from Google Earth. The yellow locations will form initial targets for investigation. Smaller entrances are likely to be found when on the ground and with local guides

Detailed view from Google earth of some previously explored cave entrances

Some Example new Features for exploration evident from Google earth (1 of 2).

Some example new Features for exploration evident from Google earth (2 of 2).

